Metacognition Tool Kit

Mental Images	1	Good readers must be able to make pictures or movies in their head of things they see. "When I was reading, I saw"
Making Connections	THE REAL PROPERTY.	Good readers must make connections with text. Nuts and bolts connection objects together.
Asking Questions	1000	Good readers must ask questions when they are reading. Which type of screwdriver will get the job done right?
Making Inferences	The state of the s	Good readers must "read between the lines". You must make accurate measurements to get the job done right.
Determining Importance	(A)	Good readers must be able to determine what is important and what is not. Pilers are precise tools that can pull/hold other important tools.
Synthesizing		Good readers need to be able to put all of the pieces together. All Handymen have a hammer. Hammers can be used for a variety of projects.
